MaryKate Morse is professor of leadership and spiritual formation at George Fox Evangelical Seminary and director of strategic initiatives at George Fox University in Portland, Oregon.

She holds an M.A. in biblical studies and an M.Div. from Western Evangelical Seminary (now George Fox Evangelical Seminary), as well as a doctorate in leadership from Gonzaga University.

In addition to teaching she also serves as a consultant to churches and organizations in transition or with leadership challenges. She has planted two churches with leadership teams, Community of Christ Church in Hillsboro (www.comchristchurch.org) and RiversWay Community (www.riverswaycommunity.com) in Portland. Along with being a Quaker minister and a trained spiritual director, she also does conference and retreat ministries and mentors leaders.

Morse has written for Newsweek, leightonfordministries.org, nwfriends.org, Priscilla Papers, Quaker Life, Teaching Theology & Religion, bible.org, USAA Magazine, Quaker Religious Thought, Evangelical Friend, Kardia and Presence, among others. She has spoken at World Vision International, InterVarsity Staff Conference, Society of Biblical Literature, Wesleyan/Holiness Women Clergy Conference, Emergent Convention, Generous Orthodoxy Conference, Christians for Biblical Equality and many others.
